Description

The Bosphorus Dinner Cruise in Istanbul is one of the most popular ways to spend an evening in the city. You will sail between Europe and Asia while enjoying the illuminated skyline, passing by landmarks such as the Bosphorus Bridge, Dolmabahçe Palace, and the waterfront mansions.

During the cruise, dinner is served while the stage program begins. The atmosphere is lively but balanced, with a mix of belly dance, traditional folk dances, Romani performances, and live DJ music. The evening flows naturally between dining and entertainment.

There are two main program options depending on your preference, and both programs include hotel transfer for your convenience.

SILVER PROGRAM

This option includes a full dinner with starters, seasonal salad, main course choices, and unlimited soft drinks. Guests can choose from grilled chicken, fried fish, or vegetarian falafel. Depending on the season, dessert is served as baklava or semolina halva, or fresh fruit may be offered. The show program features performances such as Whirling Dervish, traditional dances, and live music, making it a comfortable and complete option.

GOLD PROGRAM

This option offers front-row seating and a more premium setup, along with a more refined dining experience. Guests can choose from a wider selection of main dishes such as salmon fillet, beef steak, curry chicken, creamy mushroom chicken, or Turkish manti. The service is more attentive, and the overall atmosphere is designed for a more elevated evening.

The boat operates with a structured seating system. Guests are not placed at shared tables, and each booking is assigned to a private table, creating a more comfortable and personal atmosphere.
